META

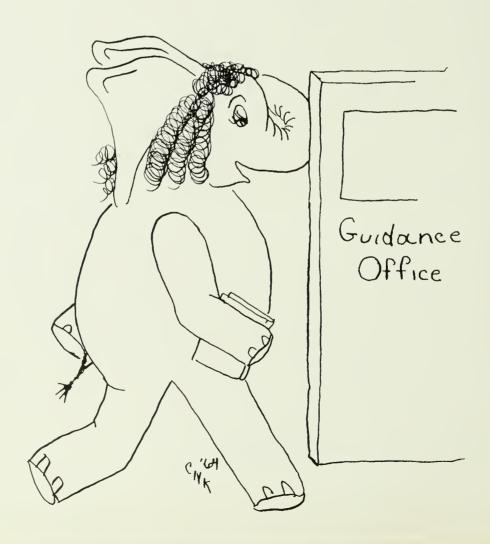

PEABODY HIGH SCHOOL MASSACHUSETTS

Foreword

Soon our high school days will be history. In the coming years each member of this class will be called upon to work more diligently, to do more to become a success in his particular field of endeavor. We must remember, however that success is not a gift but an accomplishment. Life owes us nothing.

In the Meta we have attempted to preserve for each member of this class at least one golden memory of the past four years. If we can do this, we will have fulfilled the purpose of the yearbook.

That golden memory may be the first dance, a great football game, the first romance, or even a particularly good report card. Whatever it is, we hope that it will never be forgotten.

Dedication

For the many hours of unselfish work and untiring devotion to your pupils, we, the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-four, gratefully dedicate our high school memories to you, MISS MARGUERITE MURPHY.

In Appreciation

For your time when we have needed help...

For your devotion during stress...

For your guidance in our dark moments...

For your efforts when we have failed...

For your loyalty in the face of criticism...

We, the graduating class of 1964, wish to express our deepest appreciation to you...

The faculty of Peabody High School, our light to the future years in the adult world.

End Of Term Message

MY FELLOW CLASSMATES:

Let us look at our graduation not as an end, but rather a beginning. Our years at Peabody High School have provided us with a foundation of learning and experience on which to build a better tomorrow.

As graduates we are the "war babies" who were born at the close of a world wide conflict and were weaned on diplomatic negotiations aimed at the prevention of world wide annihilation.

Our challenge for the future is a great one, and it must be pursued with the conviction that brotherhood of nations and world peace is within our grasp.

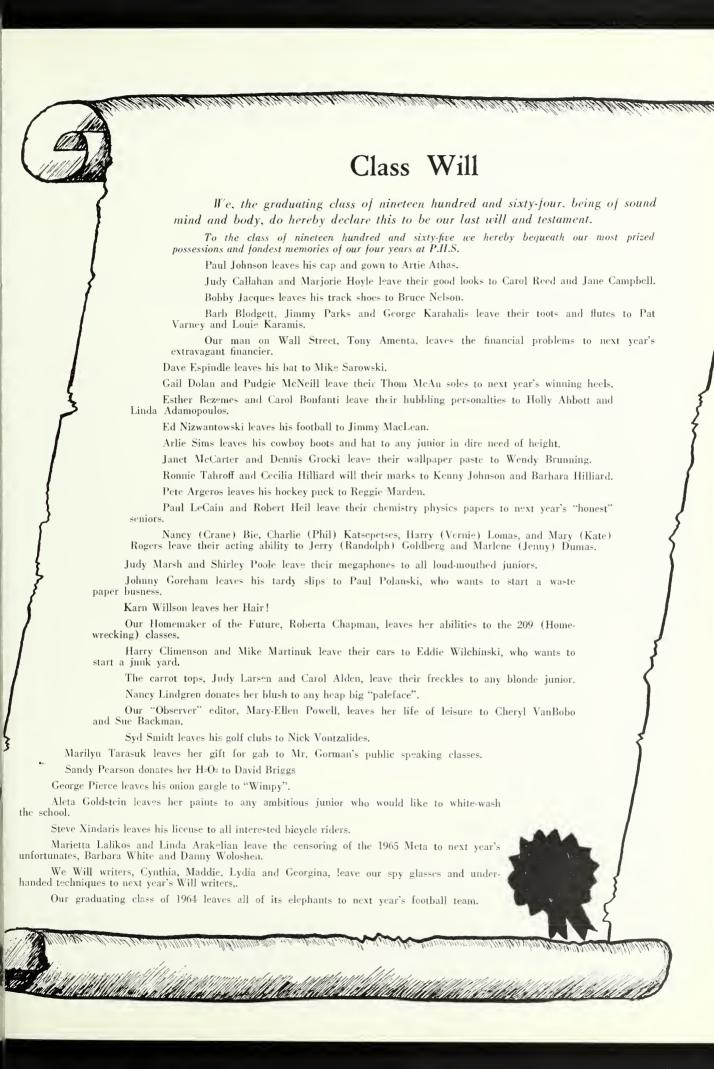

As we pass through the egresses of our Alma Mater, we must not forget the trials and tribulations, our joys and sorrows, and our losses and victories that touched each one of us as an individual and as a class. These were the stepping stones of experience that lead to the road ahead. The road may be rough, it may be smooth, and will lead us in many directions. As our paths cross let us look back with fond memories at our class of '64, a class which started us as worthwhile citizens.

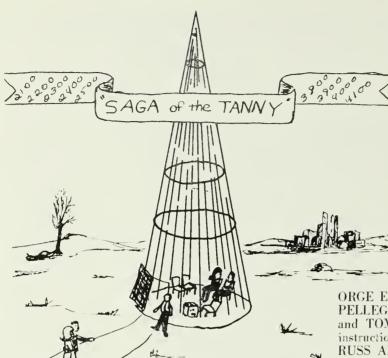

During our senior year our country suffered the loss of what many feel was a great leader. He left with us some words that will go down in history. "Ask not what your country can do for you. but ask what you can do for your country." Let us use this theme and ask not what society can do for us. but seek out what we can do for society.

Working with you as your president has been an experience that will never be forgotten.

May each of you be successful and happy in pursuit of the goals that you have set for yourself.

Respectfully yours,
Malcolm "Pudge" McNeill, Jr.

Prophecy

The following is a brief preview of the forthcoming novel, Saga of the Tanny, by its authors: ANN CALLA-HAN, KEN HIMMEL, GEORGE KARAHALIS, ISABEL KARPICZ. AND NICK MANDRAGOURAS.

From laboratories across the nation, researchers had been working day and night for a number of years in quest of a machine capable of breaking through the barriers of time. This project originated in the minds of researchers BOB HEIL, MIKE KRYSKOW, and GEORGE PIERCE. Because of the electrical complications involved in a project of this sort, the assistance of such famous electrical engineers as DON GUILD, LARRY SPOONER, FRANK STEVENS. FRED WAGNER, DOUG WINSOR. BOB ZALANSKAS. AND CHARLEY ZARBA proved invaluable.

For their offices they used the Smidt Building, which was named for the industrial tycoon. SYD SMIDT, and was a small part of the research center designed by the noted architect, CHAROLETTE GURKE. Staffing this building were AGNES MIGAS, MARY HUDSON, SUE HOULDEN, CINDY KOULAS, JANICE ANDERSON, JEAN KALIVAS, and ELAINE SPECTOR, all loyal secretaries to those electrical geniuses.

Among visitors to the Smidt Building were the famous educators. GEORGINA HOSSFELD, and CURT HENDERSON, who were given a royal welcome by DONNA CALIRI and ELAINE MORFIS, receptionists in the main lobby. Like others, they commented on the beautiful decor of the building which was the work of PAM NILAND and CAROL ROSE.

After the theorists had completed their basic formula for the machine, mathematicians ARMANDA SILVEIRA. MARIETTA LALIKOS, and BETTY ANTOZEWSKI prepared a workable plan for BILL DREW. DON MUSIAL, and DON PERRY. draftsmen for the project. The completed plans were rushed down to head engineers, ROBERT ROSS. DICK CULLINAN. and PHIL REED who started the wheels of progress in motion.

In the construction center, master electrician GE-ORGE ENOS instructed his crew TOM RUSSEL, JOHN PELLEGRINI, HARVEY DUPONT, JOHN DULLEA, and TOM DOHERTY to begin immediately. Duplicate instructions were sent down to machinists SAB MARCI. RUSS ANDERSON. FRED LENDALL, BOB COSMAN, and MIKE DOWNEY. Through the combined efforts of all these workers during the many months of gruelling labor, the time machine was finally completed.

On the day of christening, guests arrived from all parts of the nation. Representing the four branches of the service were Gen. PAUL LE CAIN from the Air Force, Admiral HAROLD COLOTTI from the Navy, Gen. CHUCK STAVROS from the Army, and Admiral JOHN YOUNG from the Coast Guard. Celebrities watching the ceremonies included CECELIA HILLIARD. Head of the Peace Corps; TONY AMENTA, new owner of the Stop & Shop; DONNA RICE, professional ice skater; MADDIE DuPREY, government consultant; PAUL GRILLO, photographer for the nationally syndicated Peabody Times; GENE DOUGHTY, famous guitarist and minister, DAN REGAN, pro baseball player: DAVE ESPINDLE pro football player; and business tycoons MARTY COHEN and JOHN HINCHION. World renown novelist, PAUL JOHNSON, delivered a speech commending the fine work done by the research center. Following the opening ceremonies. PENNY DANIELS, whose philanthropist husband donated large sums toward the building of the machinc, christened it the Tanny.

Now began the months of searching by Drs. ROBERTA CHAPMAN, P.H.D. and CHARLEY PERAKIS, M.D.. to find those people best suited mentally and physically for a trip of this unusual type, MIKE ALESI. JUDY MARSH, ED NIZWANTOWSKI. AND MIKE MARTINUK assisted in the training of these "time-onauts." Those finally selected to make the first voyage were chemical engineer JOHN DALY, IBM expert KAREN CORMIER, dietician JANET HARRIGAN, official historian JIMMY PARKS, secretary LYNNIE MacKAY, Army observer GEORGE NELSON, and Dr. STEVEN XINDARIS.

Safely behind the glass plated observation dome. BRUCE DICK, BARBARA BLODGETT, CAROL ALDEN, JIM CHAMPIGNY and STEVE LIPPENS, officials from the various sections of the research center watched the hustle of the preparation for the send-off of the time-o-

"... 4-3-2-1," droned BILL BRENNAN'S voice from the control room. Then with a flash of light and a cloud of dust and a hearty "Zap!", the noble Tanny disappeared into the fourth dimension. "We've done it! We've done it:" cried JOE CRONIN and MIKE DiGERONIMO as they danced about the control room floor.

Not waiting to give congratulations, MARY-ELLEN POWELL and JUDY KOTOLOSKI rushed their storics to the waiting presses which would carry the news to the rest of the world. But much to their irritation, EDDIE ROCHE'S super press car was minus one wheel after making the first turn and had to be towed to the "Central Garage" owned by RUSS JONES, JIM HINCHION, and JOHN BRISBOIS, Because of the speedy service at the garage they soon reached their office and reported the events that occurred.

"Attention, will Mr. LENNIE ANDERSEN please report to the control room at once," came LOUISE Mc-CARTHY'S voice over the P.A. system.

"Mr. ANDERSEN, we've lost contact with the Tanny!" eried FRANK CASSESE.

"Go into a stand by alert," replied Lenny with calm reserve.

After a few quick phone calls the entire staff of the

After a few quick phone calls, the entire staff of the control room was standing by their machines to give Tanny any aid they could.

Following reports from KATHY LeFAVE, X-ray technician; ED SHAPIRO, engineer; PAUL GROSIAK. Army technican: and PHIL TOWNE, machinist; LORRAINE MORONI and GERRY TERENZI fed the data into the IBM machine. However, the machine was unable to come up with a solution to the problem. The only course remaining was to build a second time machine.

Because Tanny had exhausted appropriated funds. WALTER BERDACHOWSKI, HARVEY COHEN and CHUCK GOULD. co-managers of the financial division. appealed for loans to banks represented by BETTE THOMAS, LEO DONAHUE, WALTER KRAWCZYK, SUE HALEPAKIS and MIKE COLLINS. Progress of this transaction was temporarily held up while BARBARA MAZZIE, SUE SLATTERY, VALERIE ARVANITIDES, JOYCE BURNS and PAT PAUL, secretaries needed for the paper work involved, were at the beauty parlor having their hair styled by CAROLINE ESPINOLA, NANCY MORSE, JUDY GRINDROD, EVE SAMPSON, and ERNESTINE MATTOS. Because of the urgency of the situation, NANCY PEARL, LINDA LaPAGE, MEREDETH FLINT. MELINDA DEVEAUX, VICKE DEL VECCHIO and CAROLYN ANDREWS started a campaign to solicite donations from all parts of the country.

Backed by this capital, engineers PETE DILLAWAY, TIM SWAINE, RONNIE TABROFF, and GERRY PRESSMAN began the building of Tanny II. BOB JACQUES, DON VOYCE. ED NAFRONOVICH, JACK SILVA, AND BILL SPENCE laid the metal framework for the second machine. Because of the similarity between the mechanisms of the time machine and airplane engines, TOM WILSON, DON CAVANAUGH, and HARRY CLIMENSON, mechanics from a neighboring air field came to double check the machinery of Tanny II.

In the process of their minute examination, a yet unexplained accident occurred starting a fire. Thanks to the speedy action of firemen BILL MAHONEY, STEVE CONNOLY, ROY FEENER, and DWIGHT HARPER, it had little chance to spread.

While these brave men were battling the blaze, nurses ROSANNE SIDMAN, PAT MARIA, KAREN WILL-SON. DOTTY FRANTZ, AND JANET McCARTER, AND DONNA STARKEY, administered first-aid to MAUREEN DRISCOLL, CAROL DRINKWATER, CAROL DEL-PERO, LINDA MARSHALL, LILLIAN OLIVEIRA, FLO-RENCE FRAIN, AND MARYANN WALTERS, secretaries who were caught in the building at the time of the fire. To help control the traffic, JOHN MACCINI, RICK OTENTI, CHET NEMPHOS, AND TERRY LEE, of the state police, were on the scene to assist the research center guards, DON HART, RONNIE MARSHALL, STEVE ŠULESKI, JOHN HIEDLER, AND WAYNE ATKINSON. Volunteer workers on hand to serve coffee and donuts were VIVIAN THEODORACOPOULOS, MARILYN TA-RASUK, SUE PERKINS, LYNDA SWIDERSKI, AND GERI BATIE.

After the damage caused by the fire had been repaired, scientists stepped up their work to complete the Tanny II. Due to the urgency of the situation, officials witheld the christening ceremonies. Soon specialized volunteers, DONNA HOWCROFT, LINDA NEVES, DONNA MARCHETTI, NOELIA BETTENCOURT, JUDY COHEN, AND DR. HARVEY FRITZ were assembled for the departure. "... 4-3-2-1," JOHN BRENNAN counted, taking his brother's place at the microphone. At that moment Tanny II disappeared on its rescue mission into time.

Following a brief night-like period, Tanny II emerged in brilliant sunlight in the middle of Times Square. Around it great confusion reigned. Now it became clear what was causing this mass pandemonium: in the middle of a half-wrecked Cadillac convertible, and surrounded by hordes of screaming teen-agers, was DENNIS BUCK-LEY, the last remaining Beatle.

Carrying a huge manner proclaiming their undying love for Dennis, were SUE COOK, NANCY CRAIGEN, JOYCE ANDREWS. SHIRLEE POOLE. PAT PAINE, AND DONNA RAY.

On the hood of the Cadillac leaning across the windshield, were ESTHER BEZEMES, DONNA PICKMAN, AND DONNA FOTI, singing: "We love you, Dennis, oh yes, we do . . ."

"What is the reading on the time radar?" asked Dr. Fritz from the safety of the Tanny II.

"The blips on the scope are becoming stronger," replied his assistant. "We're on the right track."

Without further ado. Tanny II vanished once more into the fourth dimension.

This time they landed in what seemed to be the stadium behind the new Peabody High School.

From their vantage point the time-o-nauts could see several teachers, DINA GIROLIMON, SUE KIRSTEIN, BETTE BARRY, SUE DAVIDSON, PHYLLIS SPIGEL, AND JENNIE WINCHESTER, leading their classes to their seats in the stands. From the podium LINDA ARRA-KELIAN called the assembly to order and introduced His Honor, the Mayor, RONALD CASTRONOVA, who in turn, presented the famous educators. JUDY CALLA-HAN, LINDA FALKINGHAM, DEBBIE DONOVAN, MARY ROGERS, LYDIA HALLINEN, AND MARY SANTANGELO.

There was a slight interruption while several teachers, PAUL HOWELL, CAROL BONFANTI, AND DONNA GALLO, settled their students in the stands.

After a check on the "time radar,, the Tanny II departed on its third journey.

Emerging in a cloud, the time-o-nauts could hear the whine of jet engines. Suddenly the sunlight illuminated two jets, racing neck-and-neck across the Pacific Ocean, and wedged between them was the invisible Tanny II.

From the Tanny II the time-o-nauts could see the opposing pilots. DAVE CARON, AND COLEY LEE: visible in the passenger compartments of one plane, were the stewardesses, LILLIAN CARNABUCI, JOAN KOHUT, JUDY WILLIS, SHEILIA FOSSA, LOIS JOHNSON, AND JOAN NAPOLITANO; and in the other, hostesses, CHRISTINE ZAVASKY, CAROL SIMARD, AND PRISCILLA SCARINGI, could be seen calmly serving such celebrities as GERI WHITE, prima ballerina; SUE THIBAULT, noted veterinarian; JOANNE TULLY, actress; BOB LUZ, newly selected Mr. America; LORETTA ORGETTAS, singer; and ROBERTA GORSE, fashion model.

After circling the planes several times, Tanny II drew near what appeared to be an underwater cave. It was so dark that at first they weren't sure whether Tanny

II had stopped its movement through time.

"All right," yelled the captain. "put the forward flood lights on." Immediately the underwater scene lept into view. According to the readings on the dials, in the control room, they were four miles underneath the surface of the Atlantic Ocean. Starting the propellors, they maneuvered Tanny II out of the cave onto the broad ocean floor. Around them was a vast variety of sea life, millions of species of fish, sponges, seaweed, and what appeared to be an underwater freeway. As the invisible Tanny II moved closer to the sub-surface thorough-fare, a small automobile-shaped vehicle with huge fins and caterpillar treads approached, traveling at a speed of ninety or one hundred miles per hour. Inside were four familiar faces, PETE PROKOPIS, a lawyer; his secretary, KATHY EMMETT; JOHN PAGE, a ship's officer in the Merchant Marines; and his secretary, PHYLLIS REILY.

Barreling down the road after them, was another vehicle; but this one, equipped with an underwater siren, was going much faster. Inside were underwater patrol officers, ED MURPHY, and CATHY PAWLICKI. Eddie and Cathy soon caught up with Pete and friends, but the Tanny II moved on, and the end of the chase was lost to view.

Soon a glass-domed city swam into sight. In the suburbs the time-o-nauts could see a surveyor, LARRY STEPENUCK, and his assistant, JOHN CANDEAS, laying out an area of land for the house ED HILENSKI, a business executive, was going to build.

Slipping between the molecules of the glass dome, the Tanny II invaded the undersea metropolis. Then balancing on a stream of air from its dual helicopter blades. Tanny II hovered above buildings, peeking into windows and doors. In a shop below them, the time-o-nauts could see cosmetologists. SANDY PEARSON, JANICE GRUNT-KOSKY, AND DIANNE ANDERSON, leaning over dentist PUDGIE MeNEILL, who had fainted when somebody spilled red nail polish on him. His last conscious words were ". . . Ah, blood!"

Directing their gaze further down the street, the time-o-nauts could see JOYCE AND PAULA ELCHOOK, secretaries, hurrying toward a beauty salon owned by DOTTY HANLEY AND RONNIE ROY.

Inside the salon CINDY CHAPMAN, one of the best hair stylists under the ocean, was designing the hair of DIANE CHULDZINSKI, executive secretary for a firm operated by JOHN RALEY AND STEVE HAYWARD.

On the next street corner was a seafood restaurant called "King Neptune's Lunch Basket", owned by that illustrious epicurian, PETE ARGEROS, and through those green painted doors came the enchanting sounds of the famous pianist, ANNE HUBER, SANDY McEWEN, NORMA SAVY, PAT FERGUSON, AND MARY ALICE KUSHNIERUK were busy serving platters of food to the customers. The special for the day was prime rib roast, purchased exclusively from the internationally famous meat merchant, RICHIE RYAN.

Crawling from under a slimy black rock, the internationally infamous tax collector DONNA LINCI-

CUM, prepared to attack the "Lunch Basket."

Their arrival caused quite a commotion. Accountants JOE HOUGHTON, ART LOMBARDI, AND DENNIS GROCKI hastened to save the day for the "Lunch Basket." Alas. their efforts were in vain: these ruthless collectors really meant business.

As the Tanny II retreated from the distaster area, the horrified time-o-nauts caught sight of PETE GUERIN, LENNY KUCKER, and CHARLEY TESTA, business heads of the restaurant in question, running toward the Armed Forces Dispensary for emergency tranquilizers. On hand to administer aid to these beaten men were nurses DONNA GLENCROSS, BARBARA FLYNN, JUDY LARSEN, AND MARY ANZALONE.

Suddenly the Tanny II hit an air pocket, causing the radar operator to knock the "time-lever" into gear. Following a flash of light and a bone jarring jolt, Tanny II once again crossed into the fourth dimension. After the confusion in the ship had subsided, someone put the lever into its "rest" position and the lights inside Tanny

II came on again.

The view from the port was one of rolling plains and oil derricks. A check of the electronic map of the world on the control board, confirmed their suspicions: they had stopped in the oil district of Oklahoma.

In the cockpit driving a turbine-powered, tri-compartmental limousine that streaked across the Oklahoma horizon, was eccentric billionaire, PETE FREDERICK-SON, talking with CAROL BURNETT and JULIA GRAVELLESE, two secretaries to PETE DYER, an oilmining consultant. In the second compartment of this versatile vehicle, were LINDA NADEAU, MARLENE CURRIER, AND PAT CRUDDAS, all busily typing financial statements for an upcoming board meeting. In the last compartment sat the nation's biggest oil magnate, ARLIE SIMS, talking with his personal accountant JIM GARN-HAM.

Visible at a distance was the spacious "Oil Palace," headquarters of Sims Enterprises, Inc. As the "Sims-mobile" pulled into the large circular driveway, BOB BORNSTEIN AND JIM HACKER rolled out the red carpet for the oncoming party. After all had alighted from the "Sims-mobile" PHYLLIS BELLACONIS, automotive genius, drove it to the service center and began to get the car readied for its next trip.

Inside waiting for the meeting to start, were AL MATTHEWS, JOYCE VERCELLONE, NANCY CALLAHAN, AND LESLIE CARTER, regional business heads of Sims Enterprises. Executive secretaries KATHY SLADE, LINDA SMIGLIANI. PAT YELINSKI, MARJORIE HOYLE, AND JUDY STANTIAL made final checks on their recording equipment in the anteroom.

Following the outlining of the business at hand, CHERYL KEITH. MARY HOMAN, CAROLE McINTIRE, AND CINDY DRISCOLL, under the direction of TONY MARIA, fed data into the complex computor.

Wearied by the dull board meeting, the time-o-nauts returned to their quest for Tanny I. The "time-lever" was once again put into gear, and Tanny II disappeared once more into time.

As they approached the edge of a mountain lake, the time-o-nauts could see a large burned area. Walking along the edge of the lake were PETE NELSON, U.S. Park Ranger, and BILL NALLY, archaeologist, with their assistants, RICK CURRIS, MARIE CASSESE, JOHN KANARSKI, SUE DEMERITT, AND LOUIE FRANCIOSE.

A few weeks before, there had been a tremendous forest fire, which campers, BUTCH GIRARD, STEVE BERRY, AND JOE REGAN, had accidentally started by knocking over their kerosene lamp. After the fire the forest ranger discovered an ancient Indian burial ground, and the archaeological expedition had come to the mountain park to investigate the claim. A climb up the mountain side brought the men to the burial site and beside a gaudily decorated grave they found a hole. Upon further investigation they found a small opening to a cave leading into the interior of the mountain. This proved to be the key to the past, for Louie came dashing out of the cave with an ancient skull and reported that there were a number of Indian paintings on the walls.

To verify the age of the relic, they sent for NEAL ROSEN, a dentist specializing in research work. Assisting Dr. Rosen were EVE ZOLOTAS, ART RUBIN, AND MARGE ANTHONY. From their reports the Doctor could derive that the skull was several hundred years old.

After evaluating the reports of Dr. Rosen and his assistants, the archaeologists began to excavate the underground cave.

Hearing of the interesting discovery at the park, vacationing nurses, LINDA MORISI, JOAN McEWEN, CYNTHIA BIERMAN, AND GAY CORRENTI decided to investigate the mysterious site. There they met JOHN GARLIN, CAROLYN ABBOTT, AND ANN YOKAS, three old classmates.

On their way down the mountain they met a group of vacationing teachers: DANIELLE HEYNDRICKX, NANCY BIE, HARRY LOMAS, NANCY LINDGREN, CLARINDA SANTOS, ALDEEN WHITING, and WAYNE WEINER.

After examining the paintings with BETTY KRESS-

LER, ALETA GOLDSTEIN, AND CHARLIE KATSA-PETSES, art consultants, the archaeologists found that the paintings were approximately 400 years old. The thing that puzzled them most, was a picture of an object that looked like a flying saucer. The passengers of Tanny II recognized it as the Tanny I. Setting their dials 400 years back they broke the barriers of time again. Realizing that the contours of the land would change with time, the members of the rescue expedition felt it wise that they circled the globe, once, before landing.

Upon their arrival at the mountain park they disembarked, for the first time, from their ship in hopeful search of Tanny 1. Their reliable instruments led them to the discovery of the first ship's fate. The undergrowth and huge trees impeded their progress, however, after two days of searching, they came to the resting place of the original time machine.

Apparently the difficulty in the Tanny I had been a faulty transmission-tube, for which they had no replacement, so they had been stranded without power to operate the machine.

All were well, because the Indians living nearby, thinking they were gods, had treated them with great respect.

The reunion was short, for all were eager to return to their homes, and after replacing the faulty tube, both ships crossed through the 4th dimension back to the present.

Their arrival at the research center marked the end of a long, difficult search. As soon as the news of their return had reached the public, such distinguished figures as journalist, BARRIE FREEDBURG, General STANLEY SMITH, and Senators DAVE HARDING AND JUDI HOWARD, from Washington, headed for the research center to congratulate the members of the two Tannies.

At the center, famous photographer, LOUIE AL-BIERO, of the Peabody Times was preparing the time-onauts for a group picture. In the meantime vocalist VIR-GINIA HILL was having her hair styled by ROSEMARIE LEBEL at the "Center Coiffures" in anticipation of her appearance at the research center party.

Following their medical examination by GAIL DO-LAN, all the time-o-nauts gave personal accounts of their adventures to JOHN GOREHAM, and his secretary, MAR-GI SULLIVAN of Time Magazine; FRED IWANICKI, and his secretary, BARBARA TULLOCH of Life Magazine; ANN GAUDET, COLLEEN HUSTON, AND CAREN COMORA of the Ladies' Home Journal; and JOE GRUNTKOSKY and his secretary, SUE FITZPATRICK of Look Magazine.

And as night fell on this illustrious community, happiness filled the hearts of all its people. Thus ended the Saga of Tanny.

PUBLISHER'S NOTE:

On June 6. 1984, the Nobel Prize committee presented their "Best literary work of the year" award to the authors of Saga of the Tanny. Unfortunately, the authors of this masterpiece were unable to receive the award in person. At the time of the presentation, they were recuperating from the public reaction to their work. Namely, they had been tarred, feathered, and run out of town, by some of their former classmates.

THE END.

That Was The Way It Was

Finding the third floor and our homerooms our first year at P.H.S. presented only a small problem compared to the trouble we had learning which stairs were "up" stairs and which were "down". Now that we have graduated I think it is safe to offer a few suggestions to the office: one being a full scale map showing which rooms are on which floors and in which corner, (Remember the first time you had to go to 106 or 207. "Where is it?!"); Another suggestion is a freshman course in acquaintances (It took half the year to get to know who was who in each of our classes. And it has taken us four years to get to know each member of the whole class of 64.) Gym is one experience we can never forget. We always felt so refreshed and ready for our next class after that one period of vigorous (?) exercise. Being freshmen was a full time job but we pulled through well enough to attempt a second year at P.H.S. — but this time as sophomores.

Having passed our initiation (freshman year) we were finally recognized as a part of the Student Body. Remember our first assembly with the upper classmen? — Over the P. A. System came, "Rooms 201-213 report to the second floor balcony." What a difference! Now we could actually see and "hear" what was going on during all those periods we had spent in our homerooms freshman year.

Of course lunch periods were what we really came to school for. (Ouly because there weren't any more gym classes.) The highlight of the day was the mad dash for the saudwich line when everyone decided that the "hot lunch" just wasn't for them. But the sixth period lunch really "had it made"! — all those tempting cream checse and olive sandwiches and any crumbs that looked edible. But this wasn't all we came to school for. Although we had to bring overcoats and flashlights to our classes on the stage and in the cafeteria we managed to carry a few books too. And once again (the first time was in our freshman year) we brought recognition not only to our class but also to P.H.S. when many of our classmates received certificates for their achievements in the National Educational Development Test.

Then came June! Reluctantly (?) we left P.H.S. for a 2½ month recuperation period.

We made it! We're upperclassmen, but we can't tease the freshmen unless we wait for the second session.

Boy! we thought it was rough last year waking up for a first period class at 8:00. This year first period is at 7:30. Of course the greatest disappointment of having a double session came when the 12:05 bell rang and we had to leave the building.

In late September, when we were accustomed (yawn) to our early bird schedule, Mrs. Conley announced over the loud speaker that bells would be held up 5 minutes for the Junior Class Elections. One outstanding feature of our class was the fact that we were the only Junior Class in the history of P.H.S. that took two days for the final election of officers. (What ever happened to 110's ballots?).

In an effort to keep up with the standards set by the classes before us, we took the National Merit Tests. When the results were announced, we were pleased to find out that four members of our class had received recognition. They were: Charolette Gurke, Mary-Ellen Powell, Cecilia Hilliard, and Isabel Karpicz.

Although we never quite achieved the scholastic goal of our predecessors, we were tops in the field of socializing. With the Junior Hop our class proved that we were not a non-profit organization and the money came "rolling in". If any member of our class didn't show up at the Hop, it was because he was saving his pennies for the day in March when Mrs. Conley announced, "Juniors: — the ring man will be in 210 today. Bring your deposit to 210 during your study period and receive your class ring." This official act of our class officers and homeroom representatives was traditional, but was it traditional for the whole Junior Class to have a first period study?!

On May 10 we finally put all knowledge of Social Graces (compliments of our English teachers) into practical use. Of course it was our Junior Prom! As the night progressed, everyone anxiously awaited the announcement of the Queen. Finally Rick Otenti, our class president, crowned Marjorie Hoyle Queen.

Once again with tears in our eyes we fluished (or tried to anyway) our last final exam and left the high school for a boring summer of fun and relaxation.

We're the greatest!! At least that's what our newly elected class officers kept telling us as they hounded us for our class dues! (It certainly wasn't the teachers who told us that.)

Our first social activity of the year was the Senior Barn Dance. After all the planning and hard work of our class officers and H. R. reps., didn't the decorations start coming down a little early?

Interrupting our schedule of fun and games came an announcement that made us turn our thoughts to a more serious topic — graduation. "Seniors will be measured for caps and gowns in the ladies teachers' room, today." These measurements revealed quite a bit. How big our heads had gotten in the past 4 years!

Well that was enough serious thought for a while. So once again the girls packed their little spools of thread and a needle and were on their way to our second formal dance — The Christmas Ball. Surprise was the emotion in the room when the queen was aunounced. But who was surprised? — Queen Georgina Hossfeld.

Maybe it's the hour at which we rose that made us such early birds. Will the Salem Police ever forget the traffic jam in front of Gaiusboro's studio ou deadline date January 15?

What happened at P.H.S. that ill-fated day, May 15, 1964. Was it an earth-quake? Was it a hurricane? No. It was Senior Day, We were making money 'til the end and we had a ball doing it. Never did we enjoy our underclassmen so much as when we gave them our books and animals to carry from one end of the first floor to the other end of the third floor. It was our Senior Reception that followed our day of hectic fun together. For the last time we met in formal attire and for the first time felt the impact of the impending graduation. We never thought that we'd ever see the day when we would cry over leaving dear old P.H.S.

There was food all around but who could eat? Everyone!! The first shock of leaving P.H.S. was wearing off, and our Banquet of June 4 was a huge success.

Blue aud white caps and gowns with blue tassels, that was the style for the day. A mixture of relief and sorrow filled each of us as we passed Carol Drinkwater, our Vice-President, ou our way to receive our diplomas, when the right name (we hoped) was called.

Before the tears start to flow, let's dig into our memories of the fads of our last year at P.H.S. Were you a member of TEKELO or GAS? (Treat Elephants Kindly Especially Lady Ones or Grapes Aide Society.) It was terrible for one D. J. on WBZ to want elephants to stamp out grapes but then again it was mean for his follow up (Dick Summer) to tell mean jokes about elephants. In the midst of this touchy feud they arrived. Who? The Beatles of course — John, Paul, George and Ringo. Everybody bought a different book on them and each book made its way to all corners of each homeroom.

Well, that was the way it was. But before you continue on in your book to find your individual memories I have one request to make. "Attention! Attention! There is a blue and white car, license plate number 1964 parked in the student parking area in the rear of the school. It is blocking the buses. Please remove it immediately!"

Before entering homeroom 101 we must make a brief pause in the small hallway outside the room to see Tony Amenta, our class treasurer, Peter Argeros, our all-scholastic hockey player, Dennis Buckley, our great football hero, Mike Alesi, Lenny Andersen and Rolie Castronova gazing out the window while engaged in a very exciting conversation about who knows what! After seeing the boys, we enter the room and find Roberta Chapman, our homemaker of tomorrow, the first one in every morning. Behind her we see Rohort Bornstein very busy studying. The West Peabody bus having arrived, in walks Cynthia Bierman. She drops her books and goes to join Judy Callahan, Linda Arakelian, Nancy Bie and Bette Barry at the back of the room. While this quiet little gab session is going on, in pops Carol Bonfanti to liven things up. She sure does a good job at it.

Leaving the girls, we start to travel down the next aisle and come upon Noelia Bettencourt quietly beautifying herself. Next we meet "Ringo Starr" or is it Steve Berry and his new Beatle wig? Shadowing him we see the head of our Beatle Mania-Leslie Carter. Wonder if Leslie's craze for the Beatles has rubbed off on Marie Cassesse vot! After all she sits behind her and listens to it all morning. And how can Carolyn Andrews and Joyce Burns ever forget the mornings they spent erasing blackboards for Miss Sheehan!

Now heading in the opposite direction we meet our three mechanics John Candeas, Elliot Anderson, and Don Cavanaugh, about the quietest boys in the room.

No nratter how much we try to avoid it every morning, some time, we hear Esther Bezemes' booming voice calling, "Does anyone have any money for class dues?" Her first victims are Diane Anderson and Joyce Andrews.

We can always find Janice Anderson and Valerie Arvanitides trying to figure out just what Mr. Bresnahan is cooking up for them fourth period, And Phyllis Bellaconis and Cynthia Chapman never stop talking, especially about their boyfriends. Through all this Bette Antozewski manages to get her Trig homework done.

We still can't figure out what Mary Jane Anzalone, Louis Albiero and Wally Berdachowski find to talk about every morning. Must be mighty interesting!

Carol Alden has quite a few friends, but they're all from other homerooms.

Nancy Callahan helps Donna Caliri solve the financial problems of the Meta. Heaven only knows-she needs the help.

Ann Callahan and Peggy Anthony are so quiet-we have nothing else to say.

Wayne Atkinson doesn't say much. That's because he's too busy writing letters every morning.

Lillian Carnabuci is forever trying to sell David Caron and Carol Burnett candy from D. E. C. A.

We don't see much of Carolyn Abbott, Gcri Batie and Barbara Blodgett as they are out roaming the corridors or rather collecting attendance slips.

And last, but by no means least, we hear Bill Brennan saying, "But Mrs. Fennessey, the bus was late!"

Now that I've taken you on a tour of homeroom 101, I'd like to wish the class of '64 the best of luck and happiness in the years to come.

MINIOIR,

1218()21

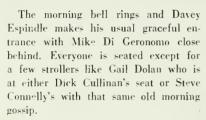

Marty Cohen leads us in a minute of meditation and Gene Doughty follows with the Pledge of Allegiance. Next come the usual interruptions: Tommy Doherty and Diane Chuldzinski make their grand entrance. The Elchook twins decide to hold a conference with Carol Delpero. Caren Comora. and Kathy Emmett who just happened to be on the other side of the room at the time.

Occasionally, our efficient homeroom representative, Penny Daniels, who has been taking elocution lessons from our V. P., Carol Drinkwater, is called upon to make a speech. She does very well as far as she goes. One of these days she might even get to finish one before the bell rings.

Our homeroom, like many others, contains victims of that infectious disease

"yak-itis". They include Juhn Dullea, little Harvey Dupont, and, of course, Melinda Deveaux who always manages to shout a few words down to Gay Correnti at the other end of the room. There are also a few, such as Maureen Driscoll, Sue Davidson, and Mike Collins, who seem to be plagued with lockjaw. This lockjaw is a scientific first because all of the symptoms disappear on the way to first period: wonder why?

We have decided on a few changes in our homeroom. Since Jimmy Champigny is always facing the back of the room, we will turn his desk in that direction. That way, he will have a much better view of Harry Climenson's beautiful blue eyes and Robert Cosman's blond hair. We are also going to move Vickie DelVecchio and Willy Drew to the front of the room so they can see the whole class at once. We will partition off a special corner so that Sue Demeritt, Caroline Espinola, and Linda Falkingham can hold their discussions without being disturbed. We think Rick Curris would like to have his seat moved closer to the door so he can observe the attendance slips—or is it the girl who collects them? There are a few seats we won't have to change. Pete Dillaway and Mike Downey seem rather pleased with theirs. What's the story, boys—could it be Debbie Donovan's remarkable personality or Maddie Duprey's red hair?

Some members of our class have a few questions:

John Daly wonders why Bruce Dick doesn't do his own physics homework, Nancy Craigen wonders what's in those little notes Judy Cohen keeps passing.

Harold Colotti would like to know which day is Joe Cronin's real day off.

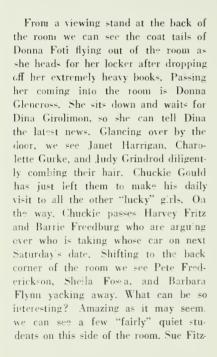

Marlene Currier wonders what Pat Cruddas sees in underclassmen.

Mr. Donahue wonders about the whole class.

In conclusion, we would like to mention three remarkable classmates, Sue Cook, Harvey Cohen and Cindy Driscoll. They, like the rest of us, will never forget all the fun we have had in homeroom 102.

patrick, Meri Flint, Dottie Frantz and Pat Ferguson never have much to say in our home room. Right girls? Aleta Goldstein and Sue Halepakis have come in just long enough to deposit their books and are now off through the corridors. Here comes Dorothea Hanley carrying her camera again, Wonder whose pictures she's taking!

Everything is quiet for a change! It could be that Louis Franciose. James Garnham, Paul Grosiak, and Dwight Harper have finally decided to keep quiet! Dennis Grocki is happy now that it's peaceful—he can study for his first period test. Also making the most of this silence is Lydia Hallinen, Ann Gaudet, and Julia Gravallese. But the spell is soon broken by Janice Gruntkowsky speaking to cousin Joe Gruntkowsky, who along with Dan Hart represent the shop boys in 103. What's this??? Butch Girard, Pete Guerin, Don Guild and Steve Haywood have just come in. Were you kicked out of the corridors, boys?

Believe it or not—Paul Grillo has just told Dave Harding that he has finally learned Miss Carroll's name. Speaking of Miss Carroll, we see that she has now begun her daily task of collecting absentee notes. Roy Feener is her first victim, but it's no use; he doesn't have one anyway. Donna Gallo and Florence Frain are next on her list. They have their notes, and very original we might add! Well, well, here comes John Garlin. Late again! Right John?

A moment of silence, a pledge to the flag, and then the students of 103 are off to their morning classes.

As they leave, we would like to wish them and the rest of the graduating class of 1964 a happy and successful future and the best of luck in all they do!

BARN DANCE

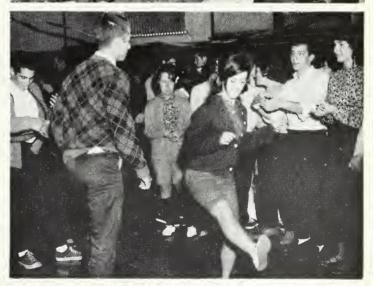

If you were a fly on the wall in homeroom 104 this is what you would see. Cecilia Hillard, a popular newcomer, is sitting at her desk writing. I wonder if it is homework? Bob Heil and Mike Kryskow are still comparing test marks. Joseph Houghton and Georgina Hossfeld are cramming for those high marks. Eddie Helinski has not arrived as yet. George Karahalis is doing his History, and John Hinchion is doing his math and also making a carbon copy for brother Jim, who is talking to Bob Jacques about the next vacation. Kenny Himmel tells them both about his Florida trip. I wonder where Virginia Hill and Jean Kalivas

Cheryl Keith and Judy Kotoloski are doing their hair, and Judy Larsen is hiding in a corner putting her make-up on.

While some of our great students are doing homework and adding last minute touches to their appearance, let's look over a few shoulders. John Heidler as telling Betty-Jean Kressler about some heroic deed of his. Joan Kohut is still writing notes, I wonder whom they're for. Cynthia Koulas, Anne Huber and Donna Howcroft are very quiet today. Could they possibly be dreaming about last night's date? On the other side of the room Paul Howell is telling Curt Henderson about the Rochemobile he just bought, Russ Jenes is over by the windows telling John Kanarski about the ticket he got at one of the victory parties, while Steve Lippens and Lenny Kucker are putting the windows and shades just the way Mr. Greehy wants them. Charlie Katsanetses is over visiting Suzanne Houlden. I wonder what type of picture they have to draw next? Could it be elephants? Over by the blackboard Judi Howard is telling Danielle Heyndrickx about the latest boy. Not another one? Marjorie Hoyle and Colleen Huston are not here yet. Could the West Peabody bus be late again?

Marietta Lalikos and MaryAlice Kushnieruk seem to be the center attraction of all our visitors, I wonder what they're up to? Believe it or not homeroom 104 has three very quiet people. Is it possible? They are: Walter Krawcyzk, Mary Hudson, and Isabel Karpicz. We also have a very good journalist, Paul Johnson, and a popular cheerleader, Sue Kirstein. Well there is the late bell, and here comes Marjorie Hoyle, Colleen Huston, and Lois Johnson.

Now that we are all going our separate ways and leaving homeroom 104 we would like to wish next year's seniors and all those who follow as happy and successful a year as we have had. We would also like to thank Mr. Greehy for all his advice on being absent from school.

Mr. Edward Gorman and Homeroom Representative Joan McEwen

Walking down the long corridor of Peabody High we come to 105, the biggest and best senior homeroom.

We arrive early in the morning around 7:00, and find Kathy LeFave with a few of her friends in the back of the room discussing their favorite history teacher. She is joined later by Donna Lincicum, Rosemarie Lebel and Donna Marchetti: all have something to add to the conversation.

Now we see that John Macione has just arrived after his daily pilgrimage from West Peabody. John tells us they have electricity up there now. What next?

As the time goes by we see another little group forming. There's Judy Marsh, Joan McEwen, and Linda Le-Page talking about their latest steady problems.

Somebody ought to take Ed Murphy, Tony Maria, and Mike Martinuk to a psychiatrist. They always seem to be talking about some rabbit up on the third floor.

Ed Nafranovich and Fred Lendell set the styles in 105 with their sharp black and white Vocational Jackets.

We see Pat Maria has changed seats and now sits near the windows. We understand why? ? Could it be the fresh air?

Every morning at 7:25 the meeting of Local 105 Window Watchers of P.H.S. comes to order. Paul LeCain.

Pudge McNeill, and Al Matthews have won an award for spending more time looking out the window than they have spent doing their trig homework.

We find Elaine Morfis and Janet Mc-Carter in the back exchanging answers for certain tests. Those tests wouldn't be biology, would they?

Have you been wondering why there is a shortage of locker space outside 105? This is because Ed Nizwantowski is taking up all the room with his athletic jackets.

Don Musial, 105's answer to Cary Grant, seems to have a problem getting away from the corridor. There must be some kind of attraction out there!

Down towards the front of the room Louise McCarthy is showing that beautiful ring to Pam Niland.

George Nelson and Bill Nally are always talking about their favorite chemistry teacher. We hear Bill knows her very well.

Mr. Gorman must dream of pupils like silent Pete Nelson and likeable Bill Mahony.

Donna MacGlashing has a beautiful glow around her, probably from that silver ring.

The Brothers Two, Coley and Terry Lee make sure things don't become dull in 105. Mr. Gorman must really like them because he always seems to give them the first invitation to the "parties" he has in the afternoon.

At the rear of the room, again, we have a little hairstyling going on. It looks great, Agnes Migas!

We have many celebrities in 105; none of which is better known than that great international stage star Harry Lomas, Harry did a great job in "Exit the Body".

The bell is ringing and in a hurry is Linda Nadeau, Barbara Mazzie and Ernie Mattos. Was the parking lot that crowded this morning?

Every room has its quiet girls and room 105 is no exception. Nancy Lindgren and Sandra McEwen are our candidates for the quietest. On the other hand, we've never heard Lorraine Moroni or Linda Neves utter a sound either.

We wonder how Sab Marci and Art Lombardi ever landed in 105. They actually study, and we all know studying is taboo in 105.

If we had to give an award for the most cheerful person in 105 Nich Mandragouras always has a smile and a pat on the back for everyone.

Just as homeroom is about to end in comes Linda Morisi and Joan Napolitano. We guess that bus from the sticks got lost again.

At this time we have to recognize the strongest element in 105 namely Mr. Gorman's desk. How that desk has lasted through a whole year of knuckle knocks we'll never know.

Good luck to all the graduates of the class of '64, which undoubtedly is the best class ever to graduate from P.H.S.

CHRISTMAS BALL

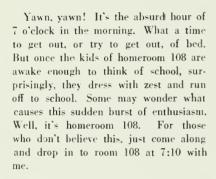

Miss Anne O'Neill and Homeroom Representative John Pelligrini.

Before entering room 106, we pass through the short corridor, where we can usually find Pat Paine talking to some of her friends from other homerooms. Traitor! George Pierce, an early-bird, can often be found finishing last night's chemistry-physics homework. If he is doing that, we're sure to find Charlie Perakis next to him, comparing the finished product to his attempts. If there is any noise in the corner, it must be Judy Ortins, Pat Paul, and Lillian Oliveira are "chewing the rag" about the latest doings. There goes Jimmy Parks, our messenger-boy, who's doing another errand for Miss O'Neill. While running out to our locker for another book, we pass Donna Rice, Phyllis Reilly, and Donna Ray quietly discussing their latest adventures. We've often wondered why our football star Rick Otenti likes to sit on the radiator and stare out of the window. It never fails! There goes John Pellegrini, our homeroom representative. He's been talking to the girls in back and gets into his seat every morning just in time to be marked present. Over in the last row we see Ed Roche talking to Pete Prokopis. We sometimes wonder what-or-who-they are discussing. Maybe it's the Rochemobile! And here comes Sandy Pearson. Yup, just as we thought, she's trying to sell some D.E .-C.A. candy to Cathy Pawlicki, Susan Perkins, and John Page. We can hear Gerry Pressman and Phil Reed discussing last night's game with our great basketball player, Dan Regan. And wouldn't you know, Don Perry is drawing another cartoon. Nearby are Donna Pickman and Mary-Ellen Powell talking about last night's party. We can't quite make out what our football hero John Raley and our head cheerleader Shirley Poole are discussing. No one will ever know! And once again, just before the filing bell, Nancy Pearl appears. We would like to wish the class of 1964 much happiness in the years to come.

First of all even before we enter the room, we see a group of boys either talking sports or indulging in that famous corridor sport known commonly as girl watching. Upon further investigation we find them to be the "famous five of 108"-Robert Ross, Stanley Smith, William Spence, Frank Stevens, and Steve Suleski. Taking a peep into the room we find Arlie Sims, the "Oklahoma neighbor tallie"; Larry Spooner, working at homework; Clarinda Santos, the fashion expert of 108 (we wonder where you got your experience Clarinda): Geraldine Terenzi, forever trying to get someone out of her seat; and Carol Rose, the teacher's helper.

Going into the corridor again we see the area really buzzing with activity. Of all the senior homerooms, 108 is one of the most sport-minded. John Silva, and Chuckie Stavros, two star shooters of P.H.S. basketball, are talking about last night's victory or on some gray mornings, last night's loss. But they helped make these gray mornings few. In another corner are Edward Shapiro, Sydney Smidt, and Larry Stepenuck the great triumvirate of golfers talking, or is it arguing, about not only golf (umm-a clearing of the throat). We find Marilyn Tarasuk, the girl who gets her picture in the paper but it looks nothing like her, having trouble with her locker. There's Ronald Tabroff and Timothy Swaine trying to get into the same locker. Ronny, a member of the National Honor Society, is giving Timothy a scientific explanation of why it can't be done, and Timothy is telling Ronny his troubles.

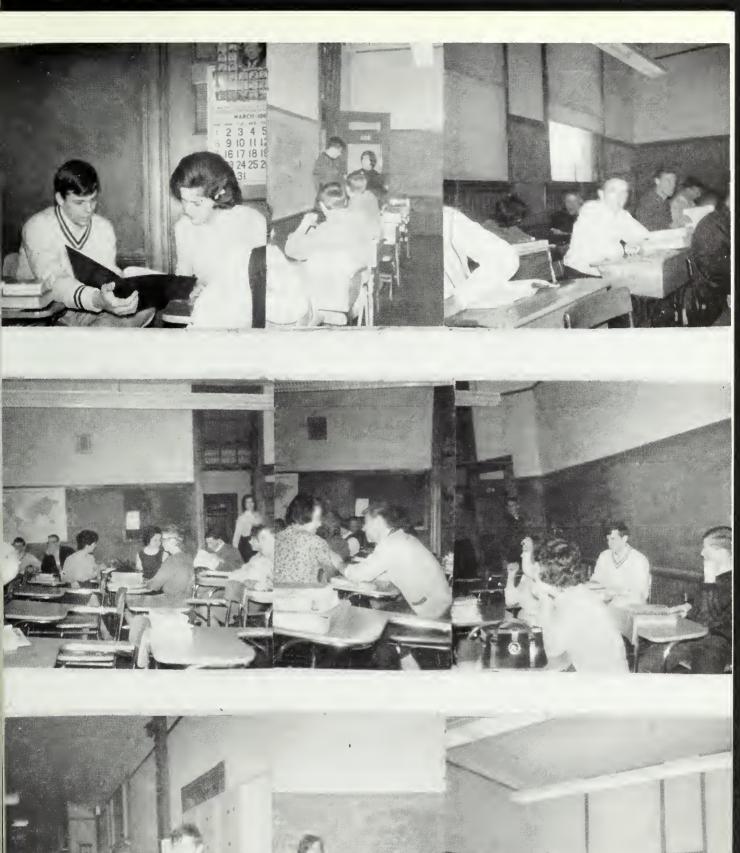

Turning our sights to the doorway we see Rosanne Sidman, the girl musician of 108, walking into homeroom. There goes the 7:30 bell to herald the opening of homeroom period, and I mean opening. The first business of the day is to call in the "famous five of 108" so that attendance can be taken. Even though Carol Simard's seat is vacant she is not marked absent because sooner or later she walks in. Looking around the room we see many familiar faces from P.H.S. We find Mary Rogers the "Texas Tigress", who is out for the best actress award for her truly brilliant performance in Exit the Body. We see Neal Rosen, the beatnik of 108. We spy two new recruits to Peabody High, Donna Starkey and Margaret Sullivan. We also see two members of the baton squad. Judith Stantial and Katherine Slade. There's Lynda Swiderski the famous songster of P.HS. There's Elaine Spector the homeroom representative of 108 flying around the room, pencil and paper in hand, trying desperately to collect the class dues. And there we see Charles Testa and Richo Ryan, who think Peabody High is really great (huh). We also hear many familiar voices. We hear Veronica "Smiley" Roy whispering to Priscilla Scaringi, while on the other side of the room we hear the vapping of Armanda Silveira and Mary Santagelo (much to the consternation of Miss Sheehan). But don't think there are all loudmouths in here. Quite the contrary! There are the three angels of 108. They are Eve Sampson, Susan Slattery, and Linda Smigliani. Here come the two office helpers now, Norma Savy and Phyllis Spigel. There's the 7:40 bell to signal the end of another homeroom period.

This has been just one day in the life of homeroom 108. For every day brings new things to do and talk about. But above all we must thank the homeroom teacher of 108, Miss Sheehan. She has helped us find the value of our never-to-be-forgotten senior year in high school. The students of homeroom 108 wish to thank Miss Sheehan for all the memories she gave us, and hope that she will long remember her homeroom class of 1964.

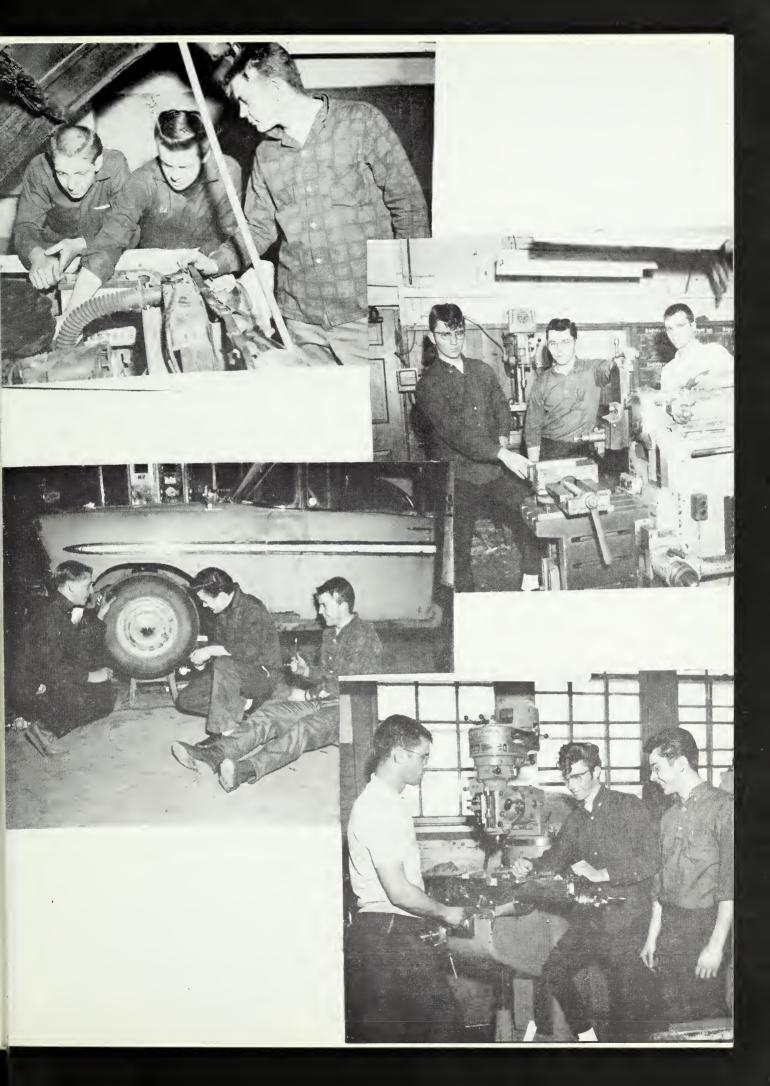

Miss Carole Bocaski and Homeroom Representative Doug Winsor.

Here we are with the "group" outside 109. Oh, here come Vivian Theodoracopoulos and Judy Willis, the "unsepseparables." Inside we can hear Miss Bocasky praying that Don "the Wabbit" Voyce will be absent. But her prayers are unanswered, for here he comes! In the distance we see Wayne "the Brain" Weiner approaching the hallowed premises. First into the homeroom are Jennie Winchester and Bob Zalanskas who are discussing the trig homework. Next we see Barbara Tulloch and Joyce Vercellone who are wondering if they're really going to have a History test. Eva Zolotas is in the back of the room talking about the Baton Squad of which she is justly. very proud. Oh, here come Pat Yelinski. Bette Thomas and Mary Ann Walters-now everything will be more interesting-or at least more noisy! John Young and Charlie Zarba just came in -no doubt discussing their latest game and all the baskets they "almost" got! Oh gee, the bell just rang and interrupted the discussion of Einstein's theory which is going on between Television Wanger and Steve Xindaris. Let's see, who's absent? Phillip Towne? No he's just so quiet Miss Bocasky didn't know he was here, and besides Gerie White was telling Sue Thibault about her latest adventure. We know Joanne Tully is here because we can hear her talking to Barbara White. Oh, Tom Wilson got a new toy truck!! Boy is he having fun annoying Karen Willson with it! If he keeps it up, she'll really have gray hair! Christine Zavasky is discussing her latest driving escapades with Anastasia Yokas so it looks like every one is here except . . . no here comes Aldeen Whiting now, just in time for the filing bell! Oh well, tomorrow is another day.

All the members of Senior Homeroom 109 would like to express their appreciation and thanks to both Miss Bocasky and Doug Winsor, our representative, for a most enjoyable and memorable year. Thank you!!!

Left to right, front row: M. Sarowsky, S. Kronteres, W. Freeman, A. Wood, G. Stankiewicz, T. Wilson, J. Nangle, D. Macione, L. Fauci, J. Fauci, P. Trull, R. Cappy, M. Apostolos. Second row: J. Shapiro, C. Nemphos, B. Dick, J. Raley, W. Lee, J. Kehoe, J. DeLucca, D. D'Agnese, R. Danish, E. Tyburc, M. Morriss, J. Berey, Trainer. Back row: Coach A. Adamopoulos, R. Ellis, D. Buckley, D. Espindle, E. Nizwantowski, J. Cronin, R. Otenti, J. MacLean, J. Hinchion, D. Dullea, E. Murphy, R. Robertson, E. Burns, Mgr. R. Walters.

Right now you remember, but in ten years you may be wondering who was responsible for our moral victory over Salem and our spectacular scoring victory (the biggest upset of the season) over Nashua. N. H. For that occasion here is a reminder. Of course the whole season would have been a "flop" if we hadn't had Coach Adamopoulos. However, the outstanding players were none other than some sturdy members of your own class of '64: D. Espindle (11). J. Cronin (14), J. Hinchion (17), D. Buckley (18), M. DiGeronimo (20), E. Murphy (35). E. Nizwantowski (36), R. Otenti (41). J. Raley (50), C. Nemphos (51). J. Shapiro (52), W. Lee (56). T. Wilson (57). B. Dick (59), J. Garnham (64).

Regret is what all of us should feel now, knowing that we didn't show as much enthusiasm for our hockey team as we should have. In spite of the meager following of the game, our Class of '64 hockey players: E. Nizwantowski, P. Argeros, W. Spence, D. Voyce, and B. Girard proved not only their talent for the sport but also the value of the game by playing with real spirit and increasing hope.

Basketball

Left to right, kneeling: G. Burrell, E. Hantzopoulos, R. Reily, J. Kyslowsky, W. Silva, G. Morfis, C. Partaledis, J. Moutsoulas, J. Geanoulis, G. Anketell, W. Ruelle, F. Davidson. Standing: Coach Roy Hyland, P. Maravelias, D. Maistrellis, R. Casey, J. Shestopol, J. Irving, M. McNeill, Co-Captain; N. Spiliotis, Co-Captain, R. Spencer, D. Regan, J. MacDonald, J. Duggan, A. Garavanian, J. Silva, S. Georgian, N. Spiliotis, Manager; Coach Pete Retos.

Well, basketball is no exception to the rule and in this sport a few members of the Class of '64 helped to keep our victory margins high and our loss margins usually within 3 points. None of us will ever forget how effective Coach Retos proved to be as he sat in his usual first row first seat of the P.H.S. auditorium and called out instructions to Pudge McNeill, Danny Regan, Chuck Stavros, and Jack Silva.

Track

Golf

Baseball

As the first sign of Spring this year the robin "gave way" to the appearance of D. Espindle, C. Perakis, M. McNeill, R. Ryan, D. Musial, D. Buckley, D. Regan, J. Hinchion, Doug Winsor, C. Zarba, B. Girard (all members of the Class of '64) on the baseball diamond. Almost everyone agrees that watching a P.H.S. grand slam leave Emerson Park is much more exciting than hunting in the limbs of trees for that first robin.
